Because they feel like family ...

“As a horse owner you are always looking for the best treatments for the health of your horse”

As the owner, you have a special bond with your horse, and it becomes a valuable family member. That's why you want the best treatment when it comes to the health of your horse. At Nano Equicare you have come to the right place. Our team consists of experts with specialist knowledge and years of practical experience. Our certified Nano CellCare therapists provide a professional treatment in the fields of recovery and rehabilitation, which are specifically tailored to your horse, and can also help your horse prevent injuries. In doing so, we focus on the correct application of treatment methods and the aspects that are crucial for the effectiveness and safety of the treatment, including movement and exercise regimen.

You and your horse are most welcome, or we gladly visit you!

Team Nano Equicare

Nano CellCare therapy is a complementary and natural treatment and can be combined with any medical or naturopathic treatment plan.

Nano nutrient delivery and its use in therapy for horses

Horses are powerful and yet very graceful animals with strong muscles and nice, long limbs. Those same attributes make their joints and tendons fragile, especially in the human environment, confined lifestyle, unnatural movement patterns and surfaces. When dealing with joint and tendon injuries, the biggest goals are faster nutrient delivery and suppression of the inflammation. Cooling longer than 48 hours is detrimental. Injections create pressure and surgery causes further trauma and inflammation. Most of the tendon and joint injuries never fully recover and the horse never returns to the original performance. Scar tissues and lack of flexibility are a ticking bomb which cause new injuries over time.

The biggest obstacle to rapid recovery is the structure of the connective tissue itself. Tendon and joint cells are badly nurtured due to the tight collagen structures, which makes it impossible to deliver key nutrients like vitamin C and hyaluronic acid to the distant limbs of a horse. To circumvent this problem, we nanorize key nutrients and deliver it over the skin, on spot, without any operation, injection, or other type of invasion.

This non-invasive method is a break-through and our library of ultrasound results is proof of the concept. The key is to be able to bring the nutrients to the target tissue without relying on the rest of the metabolism. Once the nutrients are broken down to single digit molecules, they reach a 20-600 nanometer size, which leads to deep penetration and good saturation on the target area.

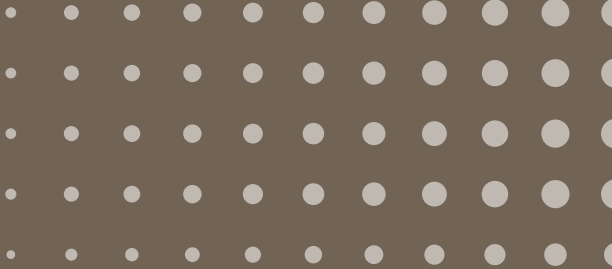

Although our average treatment schedule is 3 times a week for at least 4 weeks, the treatment has to be adjusted according to the circumstances of the horse. Each Nano CellCare treatment takes about 10 till 20 minutes.

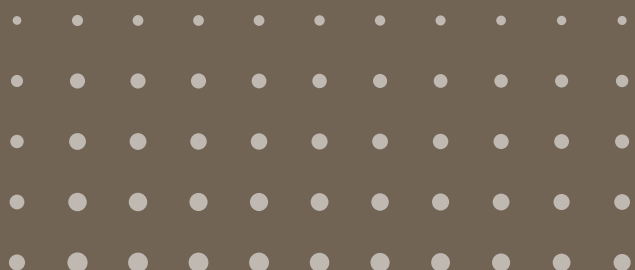

The same delivery method works for all areas and problems, the precious salts and other nutrients are delivered through a silicone handpiece.

The nanorized ingredients are administered in aerosol form. You have the opportunity to reinforce the health of your horse in a natural way. It is also a way to keep your horse fit for competitions with a non-invasive, extremely successful and easy to apply patented method. 🐾

Horse Rehabilitation Center

de Maurikhoeve

"You are most welcome to our horse rehabilitation center in the Langenboom estate. We are the first Nano Equicare location in the Netherlands. We have 4.5 hectares available for the rehabilitation of horses. We also treat horses on any location in the Netherlands, but we prefer to rehabilitate your horse at our estate. We are focused on keeping your horse healthy and on recovery after an injury".

PREVENT OR CURE INJURIES?

In some cases there is a clear cause of an injury, for example if your horse has slipped or fallen, but at the same time these complaints arise gradually without a clear cause. Our team is focused on rehabilitating your horse without extra stress. Even if we are dealing with temperamental horses.

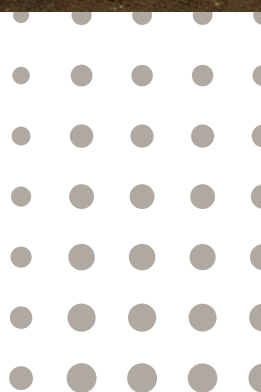

RESEARCH, TREATMENT, REHABILITATION

We invite you as the owner and give a tour at our estate. Of course it is important that you have a good feeling about where your horse will be staying. Then we start our investigation. We first request the scans and based on the results we will discuss the treatment plan together with a specialized team. If the owner agrees, we will start the rehabilitation process.

You and your horse are more than welcome. 🐾

areas:

Hyaluronic Acid

Hyaluronic acid is a physical container for all the water and nutrients, within and around most of the cells in the whole body of mammals. It is also one of the essential and key nutrients to build connective tissue and joint fluids. Because of its nature of containing and transporting important nutrients to the cells, it calms down the inflammatory activity and response of most of the tissues. It is essential to flexibility and adaptability of skin, connective tissues, like tendons, joints, and nervous system. The production of hyaluronic acid drops with age, which is visible for all of us as we can observe it in both skin, physical flexibility and abilities. With our nanorized Hyaluronic Acid we can reach tissues that need it the most, especially malnourished ones like tendons and joints, but also lower levels of the skin.

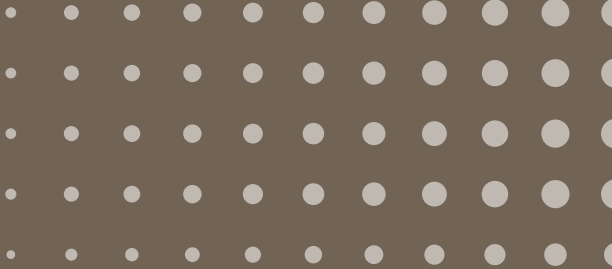

With our treatment, the level of hyaluronic acid could be replenished. This potentially puts the cell integrity and the entire immune system to a healthier level, preventing future problems. 🐾

Minerals from the Salt of the Dead Sea

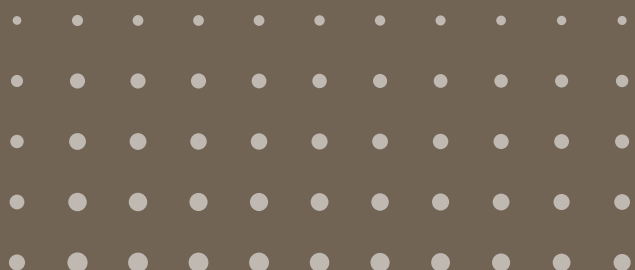

Dead Sea salt is the residue found at the historical Dead Sea in Jordan. It contains essential minerals which replenish and help the organism with all its functions. The salt is especially helpful for airways and lungs. It excels in skin issues. Another aspect to the Dead Sea salt is its importance for the muscle and nervous tissues, especially for performance horses. Most of the mineral blocks are limited to sodium and potassium, missing most of the minerals horses lose through rigorous activity and sweating.

By using our minerals from the Salt of the Dead Sea, in combination with Vitamin C and Hyaluronic Acid, all the cells could be nourished down to the muscle level. 🐾

Lucky Stable Healthy Horses

Nano CellCare can speed up a horse's healing process. The treatment causes cells to absorb nutrition and recover faster.

Marjolein of Lucky Stable Healthy Horses says: "I believe strongly that a horse's body can repair itself".

WHAT DOES NANO CELLCARE DO?

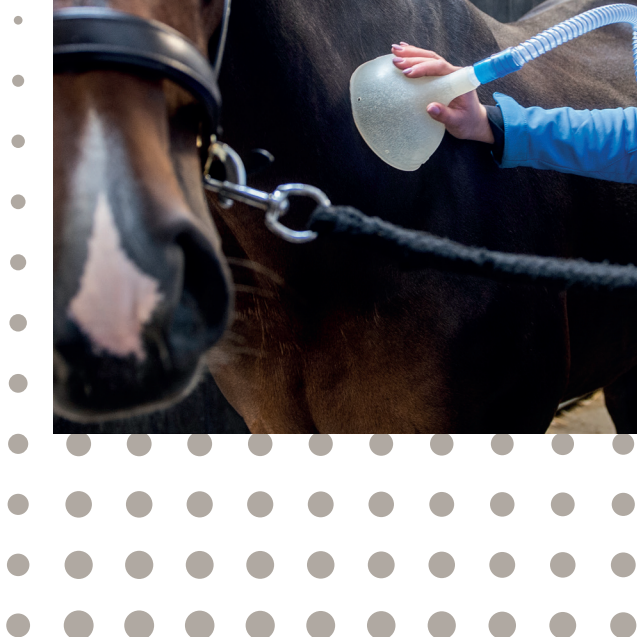

With a Nano CellCare treatment various nutrients are administered, such as hyaluronic acid and minerals. These substances are made immensely small by nanorisation, creating atomisation. The silicone handpiece is placed on the body parts where the horse has problems or injuries. This is where the atomisation is administered. The atomisation is absorbed through the skin, the cells can then absorb the nutrients. This allows cells to recover faster, which has a positive impact on the horse's healing process.

IS NANO CELLCARE SIMILAR TO OTHER THERAPIES?

Nano CellCare is a unique and innovative technique. In fact, it is an addition to other therapies and treatments. If a vet prescribes a treatment plan with, for example, a treadmill, aqua trainer, vibrating plate or laser, an additional treatment with Nano CellCare can optimise its results. 🐾

What can you achieve with Nano CellCare therapy?

A vet is responsible for the diagnosis and treatment plan. Nano CellCare therapy is used to reinforce the vet's treatment plan. By administering different nutrients, a tendon injury could recover nicer and faster.

What are the results after treatment with Nano CellCare? Our clients have had several success stories.

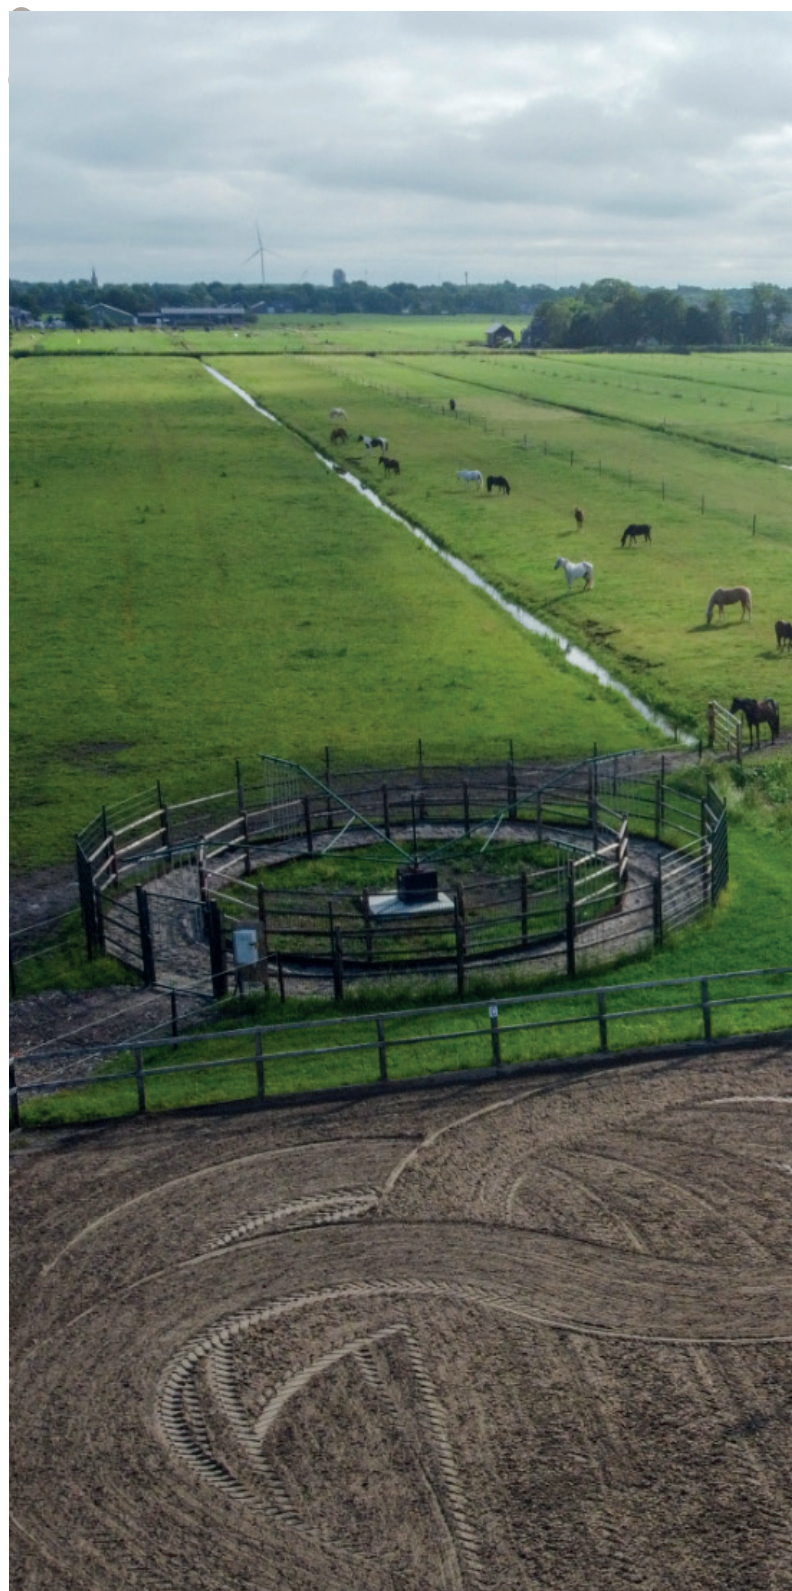

Dressage horses with tendon injuries have improved collagen threads after a few treatments with Nano CellCare (in combination with the vet's treatment plan), allowing the tendon to recover better. Riding dressage trials becomes possible again.

Horses with growth spurts may suffer from muscle strain. After a few treatments with Nano CellCare, horses can walk smoothly again.

Wounds heal better after a number of treatments with Nano CellCare.

IS NANO CELLCARE FOR EVERY HORSE?

Nano CellCare uses natural ingredients only, so this treatment is suitable for every horse.

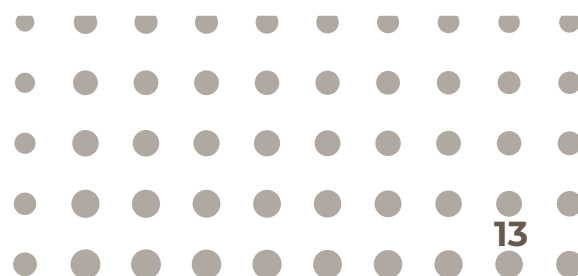

CAN YOU USE NANO CELLCARE PREVENTIVELY?

You can treat horses preventively with Nano CellCare. For example, if a horse has a tough competition ahead, you can do a treatment beforehand so the horse recovers faster after the competition.

HOW MANY TREATMENTS DOES A HORSE WITH COMPLAINTS NEED?

This depends on the horse's condition and complaints. You look at each horse's recovery and adjust the number of treatments accordingly. Our experience has shown that the first sustainable effects are visible after 10 treatments. 🐾
